Dr. Emily Hastings
Assistant Professor, Computer Science
University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire

Dear Emily,

Thank you for your commitment to improving teaching and learning on our campus. This letter serves as evidence of your successful completion of the Supporting Student Success course sponsored by Academic Affairs.

Participating in the course gave an opportunity to use university department data to learn more about the students in the courses you teach, as well as plan new ways to engage and connect with your students. Throughout the course, instructors:

- Identified and incorporated strategies for supporting students academically in their classroom.
- Enhanced their skills for communicating and supporting resiliency with students.
- Updated course materials to respond to the changing and diverse needs of today's college student.

We hope the work you did in the Supporting Student Success course was time well spent as you continue to improve your classes, teaching, and student engagement. Please reach out to CETL for any continuing support.

Sincerely,

Dr. Angie Stombaugh, Director
